Clearbrook Community Association, Inc.
(“CCA”)
Rules and Regulations

I. INTRODUCTION

Clearbrook is a self-governing community consisting of a master association and 18 condominium associations that are commonly referred to as “Sections”. To realize many of the advantages of condominium living, one needs to understand that when living in proximity and using facilities in common, we need to be guided by rules and regulations. A willingness to abide by rules will make living in Clearbrook an orderly and harmonious experience. Inherent in condominium living is the giving up of a certain degree of freedom of choice which one might otherwise enjoy in separate, privately-owned property.

We benefit when residents graciously comply with the rules developed through experience by the body of elected officials – past and present. These are rules which the Clearbrook Community Association Board of Directors agrees are applicable to all residents. Please understand that there may be additional rules, unique to each Section, which are not covered in this publication.

Per the CCA By-Laws, one of the Board’s duties is “making and amending rules and regulations.” These rules and regulations are meant to assist in preserving, protecting, and enhancing the common property of Clearbrook. The source and authority are the Clearbrook Community Association and Section governing documents. These documents include the Bylaws of the CCA and the Master Deed and Bylaws of each Section, copies of which you received at closing. If you do not have your copy, you may obtain them online at www.clearbrook-nj.com. When the rules become antiquated, or cease to be responsive to the needs of the community, the CCA Board of Directors will respond and make changes the majority feels are necessary.

All residents should carefully read the following Rules & Regulations since every resident is required to abide by them. The breaching of these rules by any resident, or Club/Group/or Organization (“C/G/O”) may result in the imposition of a fine or the suspension of privileges. If there are any rules that you do not understand, you may always inquire at the Administration Office to obtain help in understanding the rules. Every resident is also responsible for the conduct of guests in accordance with the rules for each facility and amenity.

II. BEHAVIOR

1. Homeowners, residents, and guests are expected to treat association employees, community management employees, and employees of independent contractors who are engaged by the Association and all other residents and guests with respect and courtesy.
2. Homeowners shall not subject any other person to harassment or abuse. Harassment shall mean
 - a. Communicating anonymously or at extremely inconvenient hours, or in offensively coarse language, or any other manner likely to cause annoyance or alarm;
 - b. Subjecting another to striking, kicking, shoving, or other offensive touching, or threatening to do so; or
 - c. Engaging in any other alarming conduct or repeatedly committing acts with purpose to alarm or seriously annoy other person(s).
3. Any aggrieved person shall submit a written complaint to the General Manager containing the relevant facts. This report does not prevent such person from seeking immediate police assistance.
4. Any homeowners who violate this rule shall be subject to sanctions imposed by the Association including fines or loss or suspension of Association privileges and/or denial of access to the amenities.

III. REQUIREMENTS FOR CHANGES TO YOUR UNITS

A. Architectural and Landscape Alterations:

As per each Section's bylaws, residents are not permitted to make any structural or landscape additions, alterations, and/or modifications to their Units or to the Common Elements without prior approval. All applications must be approved by your Section, the Architectural & Landscape Advisory Committee, and (when applicable) the CCA.

1. All changes must conform to established building codes and community guidelines, all of which benefit the community in terms of aesthetics, safety, and a reasonable degree of uniformity.
2. Any resident contemplating a structural or landscaping change to their unit or any modification to the common elements must first contact the Administration Office to receive an application and general regulations. Specific project guidelines will also be provided along with any supplemental forms required.
 - a) Depending on the project, additional forms and documents may include: notarized covenant letter and filing fees, contractor's license number and certificate of insurance, contract, design/floor plan, Monroe Township permit, or neighbor notification.
3. All areas surrounding your unit are common property belonging to the entire Section. Any modifications to the exterior require the proper approvals from the Section, the Architectural & Landscape Advisory Committee, and the CCA.
 - a) Exterior changes such as (but not limited to) sun room enclosures, paver or patio slabs, skylights, vestibule enclosures, windows, doors, fences, awnings, and irrigation systems are positioned directly on, in or adjacent to common property and therefore require approval.
 - b) When considering any landscape alterations, unit owners may plant within three to four feet of their unit only with prior approvals.

4. Despite owning the interior, Unit Owners are required to apply for modification approval for most projects. Applications must be approved by your Section and the Architectural & Landscape Advisory Committee.
 - a) Per each section's Master Deed and By-Laws, it is the responsibility of the unit owner to apprise their section in writing of any interior projects.
5. Prior approval is necessary for any modification that requires a Monroe Township permit, whether interior or exterior.
 - a) It is the responsibility of the Unit Owner to ensure that permits are filed.
 - b) Projects requiring approval and a township permit include but are not limited to any modifications to electrical circuitry (adding or relocating outlets, wall switches, circuits, garage door openers, upgrading electric panels, etc.), any plumbing modifications (adding or relocating appliances or fixtures such as sinks, toilets, showers, etc.), replacing the air conditioner or water heater, adding or removing walls.
